

IEHA Website User Policy

July 21, 2006

External Links

As a convenience to you, links to third-party websites are available from the Indiana Environmental Health Association (IEHA) website. If you decide to use these links, you will leave the IEHA website. Please be aware that the IEHA has not reviewed these third-party websites and does not control them. In addition, the IEHA is not responsible for the content of these sites or their privacy and/or user policies. Furthermore, the IEHA does not endorse or make any claims about third-party websites or any information, software, products, or materials found there, or any results that may be obtained from using them. As always, your decision to access any of the third-party websites linked to the IEHA website is done so at your own risk. Finally, IEHA Sustaining Members and non-commercial entities may link their websites to the IEHA website, but by using words or an acronym only (for example: IEHA or Indiana Environmental Health Association).

Use of Logo

The IEHA does not allow the use of the IEHA logo for any purpose without expressed written consent.

Personal Information

When contacting the IEHA via email, please do not send any sensitive or confidential information. While the IEHA will make a reasonable effort to protect whatever information is submitted by users of the website, no guarantee can be made that such information will be kept confidential or secure.

IEHA Chapters

Affiliates who develop and maintain their own websites must abide by the terms and conditions set forth in this policy. Furthermore, as determined by the IEHA Executive Board, any actions or activities pertaining to an affiliate's website must be in the best interests of the Association.

Acceptance of the User Policy

By using the IEHA website, you consent to the terms contained in this user policy and to any subsequently posted changes to the user policy. The IEHA may update or change this user policy at any time and will post any changes on this page.
