IEHA EMERITUS SERVICE AWARD

ELIGIBILITY

The IEHA Emeritus Service Award is awarded to a member who has served the Association above and beyond the duties of a regular member. The IEHA Emeritus Service Award is higher recognition than the Lifetime Membership Award because of the significant contributions made to the advancement of the Indiana Environmental Health Association by the member throughout their years of membership.

The Nominee shall have been an active member of the Association for at least fifteen (15) years.

The Nominee shall have retired from the field of environmental health.

The Nominee shall have taken an active interest in the affairs of the Association and made an outstanding contribution to the Association.

AWARD

The IEHA Emeritus Service Award recipient will receive a clock to commemorate the “time” committed to the advancement of IEHA by the recipient.

The clock shall be inscribed as follows:

Indiana Environmental Health Association
Emeritus Service Award
Presented to
NAME

IEHA Emeritus Service Award recipients shall be recognized as members of the Association with voting privileges.

IEHA Emeritus Service Award recipients shall be recognized as members of the Association without payment of dues.

There is no limit to the number of IEHA Emeritus Service Awards that can be given each year, but it should be remembered this is an award for significant contributions to the Association.

This award may be given posthumously.
